MAJOR D. W. MULLIN.

O. G. McCoy, William D. Newman, Herbert O. Blackburn, Jeremiah B. Davis, Daniel Sell, Mrs. Elizabeth Cook.

MAJ. D. W. MULLIN.

Major David Washington Mullin departed this life in the old family mansion near Man's Choice on August 27, 1900. He had been in ill health for several years, the result of exposure and imprisonment during the civil war.

Major Mullin was born in Bedford, February 6, 1823, and was a son of George Mullin and his wife, whose maiden name was Catherine Hatten.

When Major Mullin came home from the close of the war he and Capt. Isaiah Conley, of Schellburg, engaged in the mercantile business, having stores at Schellburg and Man's Choice.

Major Mullin served his country loyally in time of war and in time of peace was a very genial and companionable man. His love for his mother, who died on October 30, 1856, was exceedingly tender and touching.

On Wednesday Mrs. O. G. McCoy, of Bedford, received word from Philadelphia that her husband had died at that place. No particulars were given. The

OUTLINE OF LECTURE.

Delivered By Rev. C. J. Hall, "The Colorado Cyclone."

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Answered by the Distinguished Divine—He Tells "Who Takes the Consequences" of the Liquor Traffic.

A large audience was present in the court house Friday night to hear Rev. C. J. Hall's lecture on "Who Takes the Consequences?"

In the audience were ministers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, laborers; indeed, all the professions, industries, social circles and political parties seem to be represented.

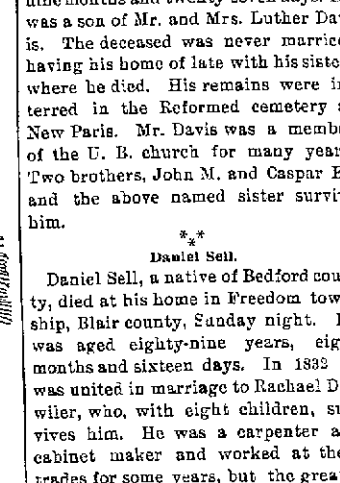

William D. Newman, a former resident of Bedford, died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, Saturday morning, of paralysis of the spine.

When Major Mullin came home from the close of the war he and Capt. Isaiah Conley, of Schellburg, engaged in the mercantile business, having stores at Schellburg and Man's Choice.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES.

Submitted To Western Men By W. J. Bryan.

W. J. Bryan made a speech at Manchester, Kan., on Friday. The community is regarded as strongly Republican, but there was a large audience.

Mr. Bryan said he preferred speaking to Republicans, because he believed it is always right to save "brands from the burning."

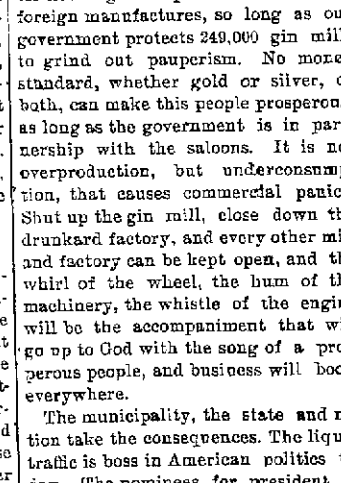

He declared that a policy of imperialism is impossible without a large army. When the government comes to change as soldiers for trade at so much per head.

is built true to its first principles. It is a home and Christian school. It provides for health and social culture as carefully as for mental and moral training, taking personal interest in each pupil, and adjusting methods to need, believing that true education seeks to develop the finest types of manhood and womanhood. A splendid field, a beautiful playground have been provided. A large gymnasium, a large hall of real value, swimming pool for all, tennis lawns for ladies. Nine regular courses, with elective studies, offer wide selection. Six competitive scholarships are offered. Seventeen skilled teachers, classically and instructing, making school work other than drudgery. Music, Art, Expression and Physical Culture, with other branches of study under teachers with the highest attainable culture. Home with tuition in regular session, $250.00 a year, with discount to initiates, ministerial candidates, students and two from same family. Fall term opens September 10, 1904. Catalogue free. SORES and ULCERS

DRAIN THE SYSTEM, ENDANGER LIFE.

That old sore or ulcer, which has been a source of pain, worry and anxiety to you for five or ten years—maybe longer—doesn't heal because you are not using the proper treatment, but are trying to cure it with salves and washes. While these are soothing and relieve pain to some extent, no real, permanent good can come from their use, because the disease is in the blood and beyond the reach of external applications.

A sore heals promptly when the blood is in good condition, but ~~never~~ if it is diseased. The tendency of these old sores and ulcers is to grow worse, spreading and eating deeper into the flesh. They are a constant drain upon the system, gradually but surely ruin the health and sap the very life. A person's capacity for work or pleasure is soon lost in the great desire and search for something to cure.

S. S. S. makes a rapid and permanent cure of old sores and ulcers, and is the only medicine that does, because no other can reach deep-seated blood troubles. Ordinary Sarsaparilla and potash mixtures are too weak and watery to overcome a deadly poison that has taken possession of the blood. Do not waste valuable time experimenting with them.

A Gushatoh Wound.

"Some years ago I was shot in the left leg, receiving what I considered only a slight wound. It deepened into a running sore and gave me a great deal of pain. I was treated by many doctors, and took a number of blood purifiers, but none did me any good. I had heard of S. S. S. highly recommended, and concluded to give it a trial. The result was truly gratifying. S. S. S. seemed to get right at the trouble, and forced the poison out of my blood. I soon afterwards the sore healed up, and was cured. I now have perfect use of the leg, which was swollen and very stiff for a long time. J. H. McBRAYER, Lawrenceburg, Ky."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known; is made of roots and herbs of wonderful purifying properties, which no poison can resist. S. S. S. quickly and effectually cleanses the blood, and the old, troublesome sore heals. At the same time the general health is invigorated and built up. When a little scratch or hurt fails to heal readily, you may be sure your blood is bad. S. S. S. will soon put it in order and keep it so.

Our Medical Department is in charge of experienced physicians, who have made blood diseases a life study. If you will write them about your case, they will gladly furnish all information or advice wanted, without any charge whatever.

Trapped the Trapper.

In "Sketches of Life in the Golden State," Colonel Albert S. Evans narrates the rash exploit of an over-sanguine bear hunter:

A venturesome Yankee came to Santa Barbara some years ago and soon became an adept at throwing the lasso.

lassing the grizzly bear, he decided to show them what he could do in that line if he ever got a chance.

One day he came upon a grizzly in a favorable locality. He threw the lasso with skillful aim and reined back his trembling horse to give the bear an astonisher, when the reata—which is always attached to the pommel of the saddle—came up taut.

Judge of the man's astonishment when that bear quietly assumed a sitting posture, took hold of the lasso and began to draw it in hand over Register's Notice.

The hapless descendant of the pilgrim fathers stuck to the horse and saddle until he saw the shack all drawn in and the bear and the horse coming rapidly together. Then, in a panic, he descended and ran for a tree, abandoning the horse to its fate.

Two skittled men, emerging from opposite sides, snatched a bear and a cub and hid between the trees with only one man, one horse and one bear, it is another story.

No other animal has been more modified by civilization and none reverts more quickly to the original wild type than the hog. Three generations of running wild suffice to turn the smooth, round, short snouted, tawny-colored or black pig into a wild boar. The wild boar, when he is not roaring, snuffing about an Island in bristles, running like a deer. If running be possible, fighting is only a wild hog can fight who battle is imperative. The trawls, which have been half obliterated in the process of civilization, are a little more than a pig's skin and strength. At a year old they are formidable, at 2, murderous, at 3 or 5, more deadly than a sword. They afford a certain index of age up to 6 years, but are common ly broken in fights long before that time. The bones of the jaw are stronger and, when worried in fighting, often revenge themselves by ripping the bark from trees as high as they can reach.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Meib., says: "My wife was helpless for five years; she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she was wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This Communication From The Famous Gold State of Alaska.

The following interesting information about the famous gold fields of Alaska was obtained from a letter written by F. B. Moore to his sister, Mrs. D. A. Barnhart, of Sidney, Neb.: NOME CITY, ALASKA, June 10, 1903.

DEAR SISTER:—I suppose you are wondering how we survived the winter, and also, the prospects for gold. The winter was a long one but we worried the time away all right. Our health was and is fine. I weighed 170 pounds this winter. I have been working out on the creek on one of my claims, or the company's claims. We are just getting it in working order. Three of us took out in four days 14 ounces. We expect to do some good work later on. The largest nugget we found was worth $3.60. I came in town yesterday noon; had to stop work on account of snow. It snowed several days in the last week. You cannot work with gold where there is snow floating; it picks it up like quicksilver.

There will be gold galore come from here this summer. A good many of the creek men have been at the beach at a place called Toblok was immensely rich. Men made all they needed in a couple of weeks. I missed it that I did not go down. It is sixty miles from here. I was onto it in good season, but did not take any stock in the report, so got left. If the claims Minnie and I have are any good we are all right, but the majority of them may not be worth anything. Prospecting them will decide it.

We had a fine winter here, 48 below was the coldest, and that for one day only. Thirty and 32 is nice weather. A gentleman and myself were out on a trip one day and made camp in the evening and could not build a fire to save us; it was cold, so made down our bed and turned in. It kept getting colder until we could not stand it longer, we got up and went to town, 18 miles. Made the run in 3 1/2 hours; had a good dog team. It doesn't seem credible that a person could run behind a team that distance in that time, but it is no trouble.

There are about a dozen boats in here now and dozens more on their way. I don't know what the people are going to do that are coming. The beach is worked out for sixty miles on either side of the town. It was worked all winter; men took out the pay dirt and piled it up and washed it further and a half again and went on further. Machines can make it pay to work the ground over again, but to rock it will not pay and the creeks are being worked by men that were here all winter.

The bar Alaska went ashore this week and is a total wreck. Had a full cargo and the people are picking up goods yet. There were forty passengers on her, but all were rescued. There were two men drowned here Wednesday; they were on a little steam yacht; she turned over and the water was so rough they could not reach shore; they were drowned within a hundred feet of shore in the presence of hundreds of people who were powerless to save them. The water was something terrible. There is no harbor at all. Every time a storm comes up the steamers have to pull out to sea and wait until it calms down. I will not be surprised to hear of or see disasters on these waters. All the boats that have got in so far had a hard time getting through the ice. Some came out yet drifting with the ice. Jensen came down from Dawson on the ice, on a bicycle, seventeen hundred miles in thirty days. The Jensen family are all coming in and will be here in a few days.

We have everything about in the eating line here now. Beef is high; the best steak is $1.50 per pound; cucumbers are $1 each; eggs 50 cents per dozen. Lamb is the scarest article as yet. Coal is high, $150 per thousand. Carpenters' and painters' wages are $15 per day; will be cheaper a little later.

I received your letter about six weeks ago that was written last fall. Mail is slow getting here after navigation closes. A two-cent stamp is all that is necessary for here.

You should see wagons they have here for expressing. Home-made, drawn with dogs. There are quite a number of horses but they belong to the big companies. There are so many dogs here they make the place hideous with their howls.

It seems a long time since I heard from you all. Hope you are well. I am not going to stay here another winter. It is too barren a place. It will be completed by a few days. This is a miserably cold day. We will be glad when the summer is over.

I am going out on the creek in the morning; wish you were here to go along and see us wash the gold out. I think probably we will sell the claims soon. I can go out and prospect some of my other claims, but may dispose of all. I heard yesterday that the company of eight of us with eight claims are prospecting all right. Hope it is true. Your brother.

F. B. MOORE.

A Day at Diehl's.

A merry crowd of Bedford folks and their friends journeyed to Bedford township on Thursday of last week and spent the day very pleasantly at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Diehl. The trip was made in a hay wagon and other conveyances. The excursionists were: Mrs. Russell, Oliver Resell, Mianer Bessel, of Coatsville, Pa.; Mrs. Linton, of Moorestown, N. J.; Miss Blanche Snyder, of Philadelphia; Robert Kamsel, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. H. B. Stock, of Lillian Stock, Mrs. W. F. Moore, Mrs. H. A. Cook, Miss Kate Diehl, Miss Marie Cook, Miss Sue Diehl, Miss Marie Enfield, Miss Pearl Lingie, Miss Stella Potts, Miss Nellie Keilling, Miss Ruth Moore, Miss Louise Lessig, Tom Moore, Masters Joe Lessig, Fred Lessig and John Cook Diehl, of Bedford.

Features of the day's pleasure were a cake walk, by Olive and Mianer Resell, an exhibition of rough riding and the impersonation of a hobo, by other members of the party.

Timely Information Concerning Teachers' Meetings.

Recognizing the great necessity for teachers' meetings and the influence for good that they bear on the administration of school affairs, I call the teachers of Juniata township to meet at the school house at Burns' Mill, September 22, there to arrange for the local institutes to be held in Juniata for the school year of 1904 and 1905. In arranging for these meetings the first to be considered will be the time to hold them. For instance, there are eleven schools in the township and it would be well to hold a meeting at each. Let us arrange, then, to hold them at the schools at the northern and southern limits of the township early in the fall while the weather remains nice. This will bring the centrally located schools into order when the weather is cold and it is a pleasure for teachers to attend. Being in line with the northern limit, the next will be Camp Run at the southern limit. Early, next farthest north, will be followed by West End, next farthest south. Mr. Gier will be followed by Mowry; New Buena Vista by Ling, thus making Diehl, Filson and Corley come in last, when it will be bad to travel on account of inclement weather.

The next thing in order will be to ask the board to co-operate with the Teachers' association for non-attendance on local institutes. Let us ask the board to enforce this by keeping the amount of the fine off their wages each and every time they fail to attend. They should be fined also when they do attend but fail to take part in the work, the same to be kept off their wages. A chairman should be elected to serve the entire term. Great care and sound judgment should govern the teachers in the selection of a chairman, since the one holding the best certificate is not necessarily the best qualified to hold the chairmanship. He should be chosen with regard to his zeal, experience and executive ability. Two vice-presidents should be elected in order that one might fill the chair in the absence of the chairman. A corresponding secretary also should be elected and a manager of queries. The latter can be appointed by the chair at each meeting to serve during session as heretofore, if we see fit to so arrange it. Right here it would be well to say that a great deal depends upon the writing of good queries. This should not be left to each teacher at time of meeting, but each teacher or any one who expects to be present should prepare his queries beforehand and bring them along to the meeting. This may seem like a precedent, but there seems to be a great lack of interest along this line and, in order to awaken the slumbering energies, some different arrangement must be made. Let each teacher, then, carefully do his part, and we shall see a general brightening up all along the line of work. Our respected superintendent, our good board of directors and all friends of education in general are respectfully requested to attend and assist in the rendition of the programme if they see fit. A programme to be rendered at time of meeting at Burns' Mills is here appended:

Devotional.

Farmer Becomes Placidian. I think there is no more placid man in the world for young men, without the means of making a fortune, than a farmer. To advance themselves through the ranks of business, they must first be farmers and know practically nothing about the business of the world. I have been a farmer and a business man for many years. Farmer Becomes Bookkeeper and Manager.

When I enrolled in the Bookkeeping and Business Forms Course, I was a farmer and a factory laborer, could scarcely write with a pen and had no knowledge of bookkeeping or business forms. Through the patient assistance of my instructors, I completed the course in about one year. I have since accepted a position with a woolen and underwear manufacturer and have been successful in my new position. I could not have done this without the help of the course.
